

Navid Javadi (born 1998, Rudsar) completed his undergraduate degree in painting at Yazd University. He does not find his subjects in distant places, but in familiar landscapes and everyday objects. By creating images that evoke stillness, emptiness, and ambiguity, he seeks a shared memory with his audience:

the memory of perceiving amid uncertainty, an experience suspended between reality and fantasy.